How a WebCourse Works

The Intro Energy Finance WebCourse will be presented via the web over three days and will include lecture and presentations from speakers throughout the country. Attendees will be asked to log into the WebCourse from 1-5pm (EDT) on each day of the course and will be able to raise their hands, ask questions, comment on presentations and take interactive polls during the sessions. CDFA's Course Advisor will also be moderating the WebCourse to ensure speaker and participant interaction throughout each session.

Participants must have access to a computer and phone to attend the WebCourse. Participants will receive instructions for logging into the WebCourse in a follow-up email after registering. Course materials will be mailed to participants approximately one week before the course.
